OUR BUSINESS

REVEALiO is a disadvantaged, minority, and service-disabled veteran owned software development company based in the San Francisco Bay Area.

We offer full stack development, which means our team can develop just about any computer system or mobile application that your business may need. Our specialty is innovative technologies such as augmented reality, artificial intelligence and more.

OUR VALUE

- Innovation - We build systems to be relevant and effective in the current digital landscape
- Integrity - We don't make promises we can't keep. We communicate well and operate with honor and transparency
- Quality Assurance - We stand by our work and care about our customer's success

OUR PROCESS

Come to REVEALiO for all of your computer system challenges, frustrations, or new project ideas.

- 1) Consultation - Schedule a free consultation with us to discuss your project or problem
- 2) Analysis - Our team will provide you with an assessment of the effort we believe the project will require, and the costs associated
- 3) Architecture and Design - Before any code is written, we establish the framework, and the look and flow of the project. (You will be very involved at this stage)
- 4) Development - We begin to build the project (4-6 months depending upon size of project)
- 2) Testing and Deployment - Once the project is built, we test it, then you test it. Once approved, we deploy it to live production
